

Please do not implement any proposal that would lessen Indiana's Telephone Privacy law protection. In fact, I would suggest you look at Indiana's law for a national model. This law has greatly improved our quality of time at home by eliminating the invasion of our home by telemarketers from phone companies, credit cards, replacement windows, etc, almost every night! There are plenty of other mediums with which to market their wares, that I see no need for me to have to stop what I'm doing to answer the phone because some telemarketer's computer hit my number. I pay my phone bill for my private use, not for a salesperson to get into my home.

Please, please, please, do not water down our new law!!! It is one of the most directly beneficial pieces of legislation to come out of the state house in a long time.
